

Dear Neighbor,

Together we can create a miracle at the corner of East Warren and Outer Drive. For the past two decades, the Friends of the Alger Theater has worked to restore and reopen the Alger Theater, the Alger, for family and community activities and events.

The Alger Theater was built in 1935. During its prime, the Alger was the place to be. It had live plays, bands, movies, and more! It was the entertainment and culture mecca of the neighborhood.

Unfortunately, years of neglect and deferred maintenance have taken its toll on the Alger. Once considered one of the jewels of the eastside it is now considered one of its many eyesores. In the words of one long time resident and echoed by others, "it will take a miracle to restore the Alger!"

The Friends of the Alger Theater believes in miracles and more importantly believes in the passion and commitment of our friends and neighbors. With only a few remaining neighborhood theaters still standing in Detroit, we want the Alger Theater to be a symbol of hope and revitalization. Our vision for the Alger includes in-house theater groups performing live plays, blues, jazz and inspirational concerts and other cultural events. We will sponsor programs for children and seniors, and the proposed renovation will also allow the theater to be used for graduations, dinner theater, reunions and other group activities.

Will you help us to make a miracle happen at the corner of East Warren and Outer Drive? All donations are tax-deductible to the extent allowed by law. Thank you for your generosity.
